Eagle Project I extended an existing patio that was 16'x8' and I extended it by two feet. I also built two picnic tables for the patio. They were made from pressure-treated wood and composite wood so they would last longer. I did this project for my church so they would have a place for groups to meet outside.

Future Ambitions: My future plans are to go to Penn State for mechanical engineering. After college I would like to get a job designing and working on airplanes. One of my personal goals is to own a sailboat and sail around the world in it.
