Eagle Project My project was the construction and installment of bat houses in Okehocking Preserve. I built the houses for people walking to enjoy, for my community and for the bats who are experiencing losses in their population due to habitat loss.

Future Ambitions: I plan to pay myself through community college and then transfer over to a different university. I will be majoring in English with a minor in political science. The plan is to end up in Germany as an English teacher and use my skills as a German speaker to explore and travel the world.
